

Kathleen Sexton, Founder & CEO Kairos Learning

Kathleen Sexton has more than 15 years of experience providing webinar training services, organizational development, and career development services through her consulting firm, Kairos Learning (www.kairoslearning.com). Through her work with leaders and learners at all levels and in business, non-profit and academic environments, she has the versatility and experience to meet a broad range of client needs. She has expertise in the synchronous/webinar training environment as well as team building, strategic planning, training design and delivery, creating career development programs, and individual career counseling.

Kathleen designs innovative learning solutions and training programs that support organizational change and improve managerial, team, and individual performance. Her programs are always relevant and engaging — inspiring participants to take action. An expert facilitator, Kathleen transforms routine training sessions into powerful learning experiences in the classroom and on the web. Her customized team building programs create learning moments that participants can directly apply to their work experience.

Before launching Kairos Learning, Kathleen worked for almost a decade at Stanford University's Learning & Development Department. She developed a premier career development program for staff (COMPASS: compass1.stanford.edu) and managed several training programs, including the Department Managers Training Program, Staff Development Programs, Stanford's New Employee Orientation and the Learn From Anywhere Initiative - Webinar Program.

She currently serves on the faculty of Stanford University's Continuing Studies. She is a Senior Consultant with the outplacement firm Torchiana, Mastro & Saprio. Kathleen holds a master's degree in counseling from San Francisco State University and a bachelor's degree in business administration. She is certified in the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® (MBTI), is working towards her MBTI Master Practitioner Certification, and is a Nationally Certified Career Counselor (NCCC).

She has recently presented on:
